A message for our customers about COVID-19

Your safety has always been our driving force. As the current events are ever-changing CSE Corporation and Biomarine Inc. would like to let our customers, distributors, and suppliers know we are committed to being responsive to the needs of our community and ensuring we can safely provide the necessary safety and life-saving equipment you need.

What we are doing:

- We continually monitor the situation and review recommendations from credible sources such as the World Health Organization and the Centers for Disease Control.
- We currently remain operational. In addition, all raw material and inventory levels are well positioned, so we may continue to provide critical safety equipment for your operations.
- We have informed CSE employees about the importance of self-quarantine if they show any symptoms of illness or have encountered an infected person. Company protocols to return to work, after employees report with symptoms, are also in place.
- We have limited the scope and size of our internal meetings to essential personnel and business critical items only.
- When any in-person meetings do take place, all participants are expected to practice good hygiene and social distancing practices.
- We continue to provide communications to our employees regarding social distancing and proper hygiene (e.g. washing hands, coughing into a tissue or arm, etc.) in accordance with CDC and OSHA guidelines.
- We are restricting access to visitors and will only permit visitors as needed to continue to run our business. Other visits will be postponed or done virtually.
- Employees have access to hand sanitizers, disinfecting wipes, and other cleaning products.
- We have expanded guidelines for daily cleaning to disinfect all public areas throughout the day.

Thank you for your patience as we all work to help keep our communities safe.
